Run information

Autism Weekend

What is Autism?

It is estimated that over 50,000 Canadians suffer from autism or other related disorders. Autism is a developmental disability characterized by impairment in sociality, verbal and non-verbal communication and a person's repertoire of interests and activities. Autism is the third most common developmental disability and is more prevalent than Down Syndrome.

Autism Community Weekend

The second annual Autism Community Network celebration of the autism community in Calgary and area will be held on Saturday September 15th from 9:30-3:30 at Calgary Quest School, 3405 Spruce Drive SW.

Come out to participate in fun activities such as Sportball, bouncy castles, music therapy, play and respite areas and meet the people providing services in Calgary. Lunch will be served from 12 to 1 PM. Presentations and interactive discussions will take place in the afternoon. Registration for the event will be available through Eventbrite at:

<http://www.autism2012.eventbrite.ca>.

Registration is not mandatory but is appreciated to allow for an estimate of numbers attending the lunch. The Autism Community Network is also presenting awards for the autism community, nomination forms and other information are posted on:

<http://www.autismcalgary.com/acn/>.

Check throughout the summer for updates.

1.5 km Fun walk:

This is a fun walk around the grounds of the ALAZHAR temple that is suitable for families with very small children. Plenty of scenery and horses to see.

5 Km Walk Information:

This is a recreational walk that utilizes the city pathway system along both sides of the bow river adjacent to Bowness Park. It originates and ends at the AL AHZAR temple. The terrain is flat and is suitable for any fitness level.
